

'COOLIE' SAILOR WILL BE POPULAR THIS SUMMER.

A hat of this type is appropriate for outing wear rather than for formal street wear in town, and the wide coolie brim, rolled up a bit, according to this year's trim habit, is shady for summer days. The hat illustrated is made of tan linen, the big bow on the crown being of tan linen combined with a darker brown shade. These hats are developed also in shades of blue, green and rose.

FOR AFTERNOON TEA.

"Among the new sandwiches which English hostesses are serving with an afternoon tea," says the young woman who knows, "there are some recipes new to the majority of Americans."

A slight scrape of honey on buttered bread is one novelty, another being golden syrup used in the same sparing fashion. Another sweet sandwich which is said to have scored great success is bread liberally buttered with an intermediary water thin slice of gingerbread.

"This," said a thrifty Englishwoman, "is a good way of using a dry remnant." Thin crust bread and butter is exceedingly popular, while among these savory fillings are all sorts of potted and pounded pastes. A new one is shrimp or salmon paste with a wafer thin slice of cucumber or pickle.

A pretty fringed or lace edged dolly is laid on every plate of sandwiches, while plain bread and butter is served without a dolly.

Even in summer hot cakes or toast find abundant appreciation, and, of course, at this season they are especially popular. If toast is served it is liberally buttered, and brown bread is considered more of a treat than the white. Toasted scones are delightful and rock cakes or biscuits are always popular.

GROUND HOG DAY OCCURS TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be groundhog day. If the day is cloudy the groundhog will emerge and if he fails to see his shadow it may be expected that the violets will begin to bloom earlier than ever.

If the day is bright, however, he will return to his winter retreat and remain there for six weeks indicating that Mr. Hog in his wisdom sees stormy weather ahead and has decided that his days of hibernation are not yet over.

While the ordinary human being is not able to tell, by taking a quiskal stant at the sky, the sun and the earth, what sort of weather is really in store the groundhog merely sniffs at the at-

An unusual feature of the evening came about when after hearing the principles of the order carefully propounded by the supreme officers, a number of outsiders were invited to join us, asked, unsolicited for membership in our grand organization.

Most of the success attained in the handling of the entire affair is due to the earnest and untiring work of Charlie Darling.

Davidson filed a petition, accompanied by a plan of Davidson's western addition to Whiting, a subdivision of that part of the southwest quarter of section seven, township 37 North of range nine, west of the second P. ### NOT ONE FRIEND OF GAME BOARD THERE

If the Indiana fish and game commission has a single friend on the right and privileges committee of the house he failed to make his feelings known yesterday night when Representative Wells' bill abolishing the commission came up for discussion. Every member of the committee expressed the conviction that the state would not suffer any great loss by the elimination of this department, but no action was taken on the bill. Unless they relent Commissioner Miles, who started out to get a raise in salary from the legislature may find himself fighting for his official life.

Meets on Monday.

The Garfield club of the Christian church held its regular meeting last Monday evening. There was a good attendance and considerable work was done toward making sure the three lecture courses. ### Chances Are Slim.

Assessor R. E. Escher says that the prospects of getting some legislation in the interests of the township assessors of the state seems to be rather slim. A lobby has been maintained at Indianapolis, but it has not been very effective. The work will be kept up, however, in the hope that something can be done.

The trustees of several of the townships are asking for an increase in salaries, which they claim should be paid to them in view of the fact that they have a great deal of work to do in a great many instances.

Rev. Wright Tonight.

The largest week night audience of this series of meetings heard Rev. George Duell of Gary at the Methodist church last evening. It was a strong sermon upon "Invitation to the King's Supper." Rev. Manfred C. Wright of Whiting will preach this evening. The ladies' quartet will sing at this service.
